Report on Lecture program on Professionalism and Challenges in Teacher Education

Date: 17 November 2018

On November 17, 2018, a significant lecture program on "Professionalism and Challenges in Teacher Education" was conducted, with 18 participants in attendance. Dr. Purabi Baishya, an accomplished Assistant Professor in the Department of Education, served as the distinguished resource person. The lecture delved into the crucial aspects of professionalism within the field of teacher education. Dr. Baishya provided insightful perspectives on the contemporary challenges faced by educators, encompassing evolving pedagogical methods, technological integration, and the ever-changing educational landscape. The session fostered an interactive environment, with active participation from the 18 attendees. Engaging discussions ensued, allowing participants to share their experiences and concerns related to professionalism and the challenges inherent in teacher education. Dr. Baishya's presentation not only identified challenges but also offered practical strategies for educators to navigate these complexities effectively. Emphasizing the importance of continuous professional development, she provided valuable insights to address the dynamic demands of the teaching profession. The program concluded with a robust question-and-answer segment, enabling participants to seek clarifications and further engage with the nuanced topics discussed. Overall, the lecture program, led by Dr. Purabi Baishya, proved to be an enriching and informative experience, contributing significantly to the professional growth and awareness of the 18 participants in the realm of teacher education.
